Paintings from the Duke Collection

Portrait of Charles, Prince of Wales, later Charles II

Anthony Van Dyck (Flemish, 1599-1641); London, 1641; Oil on canvas

Portrait of a young Charles, Prince of Wales (1630-1685), in court costume. This is one of two paintings by Van Dyck—the court painter to Charles I — purchased by Doris Duke for Rough Point in 1963.

Portrait of Mrs. Charlotte Denison

John Hoppner (British, 1758-1810); England, ca. 1797; Oil on canvas

Purchased by James B. Duke from M. Knoedler & Co. in October 1912 for the Duke New York home.

Portrait of Caroline Spencer, Fourth Duchess of Marlborough

Sir Joshua Reynolds (British, 1723-1792); England, ca. 1776; Oil on canvas

This portrait of Caroline Spencer in her ermine-lined peeress robes was one of Doris's favorites. Doris purchased it at auction in New York in 1970.

Portrait of the Marchioness of Wellesley

John Hoppner (British, 1758-1810); England, 1798; Oil on canvas

Purchased by James B. Duke at M. Knoedler & Co. in February 1923 for the Duke New York home.
